Airport upgrade plans inch forward

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The improvements and expansions to the Belle Glade airport, long planned but seemingly fated to the back-burner, may be one step closer to reality.

The city commission, in a workshop Monday, May 17, viewed tentative plans and a perspective drawing put together by the city administration under the guidance of City Manager Rolfe Wagner.

The blue print depicted areas reserved for fixedbase operators, hangars, tie-down areas, agricultural aviation services and parking.

The agricultural services would be stationed along the north-south runway. Currently, several agricultural aviation businesses are located in that area. Several are also placed along the east-west runway.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman asked the airport committee to open conversations immediately with the businesses located between the east-west runway and Airport Road about relocating to the west side of the north-south runway.

Altman said city assistance could be appropriated in voluntary relocations.

The city commissioners in attendance, Altman, George Goforth and Charles Goodlett, also agreed that the airport committee should draft a tentative standard lease agreement for space at the airport and hangar specifications. The committee is also supposed to plan for improvements to the taxiing and tie-down areas at the airport.

Wagner told the commission that the city is "a long way toward" the first of three stages in building a general utility airport.

In that stage, the airport is capable of handling 75 percent of all propeller planes under 12,000 pounds.

A stage two basic utility airport is capable of handling 95 percent of all props, including turbo-props, he said.

Transfer station to 'sink or swim' on its own

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - "It's going to be very tight." With those words, Russell Hawks, the financial adviser to the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority, summed up the fiscal straits the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority's Belle Glade transfer station finds itself in.

According to Timothy F. Hunt, Jr., the authority's executive director, the station was budgeted at $883,682 for the fiscal year. If the current trend continues, it will spend about 98 percent of that.

However, the station will "sink or swim" on its own, said Hunt. The revenues it collects on tipping fees make up its budget. Revenues are running at 90 percent of what was anticipated when the budget was developed.

"If we don't take care of the loss of the waste stream and get it back into the transfer station, unless some miracle happens, we'll have to make some sort of adjustment to bring the revenues back up to where they have to be," said Hunt.

The budget was developed based on the fees the

Work to start on SR80, US27

State Road 80 from Nine Mile Bend to Avenue E in Belle Glade is scheduled for resurfacing, it was announced at a Palm Beach County Commission meeting last week.

According to the commission's public relations firm and the state Department of Transportation, the resurfacing job was awarded to Ranger Construction Company of West Palm Beach which bid $522,290.71.

Work is scheduled to begin within 90 days.

The department estimated the work to take about 160 days.

The department has also awarded contracts on the resurfacing of a three mile stretch of US 27 south of South Bay and a one mile stretch of SR 715 running north from SR 80 in Belle Glade.

Ranger Construction was the low bidder in each of those projects, according to department releases.

Commission provides input to department heads on budget

BELLE GLADE - The tables were turned in city hall earlier this week.

Normally, it's the city commissioners who ask the questions and the department heads who supply the answers.

At a workshop session Monday, May 17, though, it was the other way around.

City department heads, getting ready to prepare their budget requests for 1982-83, met with the city commissioners to get their opinion and input before they start putting their projections on paper for commission approval.

City Manager Rolfe Wagner said the input should help the department heads "streamline" the budget process.

Alcohol zones considered

SOUTH BAY - The City of South Bay will hold a public hearing at its next regular city commission meeting on Tuesday, June 8, at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

At that time the Commission will be presenting a proposed ordinance restructuring the city's alcoholic beverage zones.

The present ordinance stipulates no alcoholic beverages can be sold or consumed in specific designated areas.

The proposed ordinance will stipulate that no alcoholic beverages be sold or consumed within 300 feet of a school, church or playground.

If the ordinance is passed after its second reading, the South Bay Inn will be allowed to serve alcoholic beverages.

At the last regular city commission meeting, owners of the South Bay Inn asked the Commission to grant the Inn a alcoholic beverage permit.

At that time Mayor Donald Tanner said the City's present ordinance would not allow the alcoholic beverages to be sold in the zone in which the South Bay was located.

In other business before the Commission:

Passed a resolution opposing Casino Gambling in Florida.

Cancelled the July 20th commission meeting.

Discussed the filling of two vacancies on the Board of Adjustment and two alternatives.

The Commissioners will vote on the board recommendations at the next regular meeting.

The new members will fill the position formerly held by Harvey Hodge and Thomas Williams, the former Postmaster for the City of South Bay.

Open house set at Hand Center

Free entertainment and a chance to tour the new Dolly Hand Cultural Center at CMC Glades has been scheduled for Sunday afternoon, 3-5 p.m.

The big band sound of the 50's and 60's from Vic Knight's Orchestra will provide the entertainment for the occasion.

Following the entertainment, the facility will be open for touring and light refreshments will be served on the veranda.

The 500 seat auditorium of the center, completed at a cost of about $2 million, is from Palm Beach County, the city of Belle Glade, the state, and the college.

It was opened on April 17.

The auditorium is already on a schedule, with events or practices scheduled there on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday before the open house on Sunday.

Sharon Sullivan (right), who works at Sugar Cane Growers, was the winner. The drawing was held at People's Federal last week. Over $700 was raised to help replenish the emergency medical fund for the organization.

Crystal Gayle, Ronnie Milsap,

Ann Murray to be featured

Three of the decade's most popular country entertainers — Crystal Gayle, Ronnie Milsap and Anne Murray — will headline a three-hour Memorial Day weekend celebration on WSWN COUNTRY-LAND 93.5 radio.

The program, entitled "Triple," combines a wide range of country/crossover music with candid interviews with the stars. Many of the top country hits including Crystal Gayle's current chart-topper "You Never Gave Up On Me," Milsap's crossover smash "There's No Gettin' Over Me," and the Grammy award-winning "Could I Have This Dance" by Anne Murray will be spotlighted during the three-hour special.

"Triple" is being distributed nationally by the Mutual Broadcasting System and will air on COUNTRYLAND 93.5 radio at 1 p.m., 4 p.m., Mon., May 31 (Memorial Day). The program is produced by Broadcast International, the radio production arm of the Entertainment Center, located in Orem, Utah.

The three-hour special and interview series features all of the best elements of today's music. There'll be a unique blend of contemporary country hits, popular crossover tunes and irresistible ballads. One hour will be devoted to each artist.

Crystal Gayle's latest album, "You Never Gave Up On Me," and Anne Murray's "Another Sleepless Night" surged to the top of the national charts shortly after their release and Milsap's new song, "Any Day Now," also looks headed for the top of the charts.

Lee Arnold, one of the nation's leading country music disc jockeys and on-air personality at Mutual-owned WHN Radio in New York City, will host the holiday special.

Mutual Broadcasting System, with headquarters in Washington, D.C., is a full service radio network providing programming to some 900 affiliated stations nationwide.

Don Williams, chairman of the action committee said members of the committee will assist zone chairmen in getting his program organized.

The police department will also assist zone chairmen and block captains in organizing the crime watch network.

The committee will meet on Thursday, May 27, at the former City Hall on S.W. Ave. A to name the zone chairmen.

Williams said it is essential for the committee to move as quickly as possible in appointing the zone chairmen and block captains before the summer season.

The Police Department has broken the city into nine sections and each section needs a zone chairman. Miller said the police department will be available to attend block meetings. Officers will teach members how to help police in reporting crime.

Miller said each link in the crime watch program must work together for the program to be a success. Even the block captains will have to hold meetings to get to know the people in that area and to teach the residents about the crime watch program, said Miller.

Persons willing to serve as a zone chairman may call Inspector Miller at the police department or contact one of the following persons.

Zone 1: Cindy Baez and Dean Jones.
Zone 2: Jimmy Sims, Ron Synder, Ulaine Whitlock and Billy Schoenfeld.
Zone 3: Don Williams, Jack Hall, Inspector Miller and Lt. Lynn Lowery.
Zone 4: John Hollingsworth, Juanita Miller, Inspector Miller and Lowery.
Zone 5: Larry Lamb.
Zone 6: Mercedes Robinson and Dan Crist.
Zone 7: Juanita Malone and Gene Hollingsworth.
Zone 8: Harvey Poole and Anthony Williams.
Zone 9: Vivian Byrd, Alma Henry, Jessie Morris and Virginia Williams.

Miller said the Crime Watch Committee is talking about organizing the entire city of Belle Glade and not just certain areas. Crist said each of the nine zones are not evenly distributed as to population or area, and this same thing will hold true when the block captains formulate their blocks.

Crist said the blocks might not be true city blocks.

Perspective

Senators should have to run again

The Florida Supreme Court has upheld the legislative redistricting plan and is forcing all sitting senators to seek re-election in 1982.

Senators winning election this year will be entitled to either a two year term or a four year term.

Senators from even numbered districts get the four year terms, while senators from the odd numbered districts get the two year terms.

Clewiston and all of Hendry County fall into an even-numbered district (76), while Belle Glade, Pahokee, Canal Point, and most of the rest of western Palm Beach County fall into an odd numbered district (81).

Now that the lines have been redrawn, it is only fair that the people who elect their representatives be represented by the people they elect.

It remains to be seen if the changes in 1982 are as sweeping as those in 1972 when the last redistricting was completed.

In general, we like the new senate boundaries. Hopefully they will make better representation possible for the people of the Glades area.

It was always a strange sight in previous days seeing the Hendry County legislative delegation and noting that it included members from both the east and west coast, but no one from a rural area.

While this may not change with the new district boundaries, at least there is a new ball game and the shake-up should be interesting to behold.

20 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
 MAY 17, 1962

Jim Maynor wound up six years of coaching at Belle Glade High School when he accepted the head football coach position at Palm Beach High School.

Maynor said he would also be teaching social sciences at Palm Beach High.

The announcement was made by Principal John McDonald, who said Palm Beach High had been operating with a shortage on the coaching staff.

Maynor had earlier coached and taught in Taylor, Pahokee and Georgia.

Maynor later returned to the Glades as Superintendent of Education for the West Area before leaving the area again nine years ago.

The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc., at a called meeting of the membership, unanimously decided to increase the daily grinding capacity by 20 percent.

That would bring the capacity up from 5,000 to 6,000 tons a day.

President George Wedgeworth said a total of 21,900 acres of cane had been planted by the member-growers and that present indications are that approximately 875,000 tons of cane would be produced for grinding during the 1962-63 season.

With an estimated 150 days of operation, not all the cane would be ground.

The additional facilities needed to increase the production carried an estimated price tag of $1.6 million.

30 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD and
THE PAHOKEE NEWS
 MAY 16, 1952

A tight Pahokee city election that threw the mayoral race into a runoff between incumbent Lewis Friend and challenger Carmen Salvatore Sr. was resolved in the final election considerably looser than the first time around.

Friend, who trailed Salvatore, 272-264 in the first election, won in the runoff by a whopping majority of 418 votes to Salvatore's 333.

The Belle Glade City Commission endorsed the continuation of U.S. 301 through the city. The highway would extend from Callahan, through Kissimmee to South Bay, where it would link up with U.S. 27 and continue to Miami.

The Palm Beach County Commission delayed action on a request by the three city commissions in the Glades to adjust the closing hours of bars in unincorporated areas of the county to match those of the cities.

The three towns requested the hours of the unincorporated bars match those in Belle Glade and the hours in Pahokee and South Bay would also be adjusted to match.

County Commissioner Paul Rardin moved to table the motion by the county commission to wait for the results of the city elections in Pahokee.

40 HOURS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
 MAY 22, 1942

Independent farmers of the Everglades were waiting for word from Washington to begin planting crops for the production of synthetic rubber as a contribution to the war effort.

Ruth Wedgeworth was heading up the committee of local growers who were holding 100,000 acres of land for planting sugar cane, peanuts and sweet potatoes, from which the rubber would be produced.

The $75 million project was proposed by Clarence R. Bitting, president of United States Sugar Corp. in Clewiston.

The city's volunteer fire department was called out three times in 28 hours as a rash of fires threatened what could have been major damage to the city.

The fires took place at a building owned jointly by Victor and Harold Riedel; a rooming house where a kerosene lantern exploded and another rooming house where a kerosene stove exploded.

Two state prisoners were indicted for the murder of Gordon Vann and Elmer Rice, two Palmetto residents.

The Palm Beach County grand jury indicted Staff Sgt. Allison, formerly of Belle Glade, and Joseph Tomerlin of Tennessee for shooting the two Pahokee men with a rifle.

The two convicts were serving sentences for breaking and entering.

50 YEARS AGO
THE EVERGLADES NEWS
 MAY 27, 1932

Residents around Lake Okeechobee were warned that the lake water was dangerous for domestic use unless it was treated.

The report that raw lake water showed considerable contamination was made by Louis Lenert, chief engineer of the Florida State Board of Health at Jacksonville.

Lenert made his report after specimens of water were sent for examination by George Kingsley, superintendent of the water plant at Cape Point.

The Everglades News reported that Belle Glade had a short wave wireless station capable of communication with a larger part of the United States.

Art Havens, Harold Reidel and Ray Brown were members of a radio club which was responsible for the establishment of a sending and receiving station located in one of the buildings on the city property.

School summer

BELLE GLADE—The School Board of Palm Beach County will be sponsoring the Summer Food Service Program for children at selected community sites from June 14 to July 28. Schools will be closed on July 4th.

The program is similar to the National School Lunch Program. It will provide nutritionally balanced lunches to needy children regardless of race, color, or national origin during summer vacation when school breakfasts and lunches are not available.

Glades schools participating in the program will be Belle Glade Elementary, East Lake Middle School, Glades Central Community School, Rose ECE Center, Lake Shore Elementary, Pahokee Elementary, Pahokee High School and Rosenwald Elementary.

Progress?

NOTE: This column was originally published April 25, 1979, and is reprinted as a comment on our advance toward the solution of the energy crisis.

In Maxums, LaRochefoucauld once wrote:

"There is no accident so disastrous that a clever man cannot derive some profit from it; nor is there so fortunate that a fool cannot turn it to disadvantage."

I don't know which side of LaRochefoucauld's maxim applies, but I believe there is a lesson to be derived about the energy problem.

Two Oak Hill, Fla., men invented a turbocharged diesel power train fitted to a 1979 Mercury Capri they say has been tested at 84 miles per hour.

U.S. car manufacturers appear to be giving the invention the cold shoulder.

Spark plug, carburetor, and engine overhauls are some of the things that would become obsolete with the new car.

The inventors say the car can travel 300,000 miles with little more than oil changes.

A European auto maker has reportedly offered the two $100 million for the concept. But the offer was turned down because the engine is "built by Americans, for Americans."

It seems that some big U.S. corporation could gain much by vigorously pursuing the invention, if it is as good as everyone seems to think thus far.

Often in the past it has been the garage tinker who comes up with the invention which greatly improves our technology.

Gasoline is steadily soaring toward the $1 a gallon mark. I don't believe it will stop there unless our technology gets untracked.

Insome parts of the country, regular unleaded gasoline is already selling for more than 83 cents per gallon.

We cannot afford this price spiral. I believe that capitalism must make a move to stabilize the laws of supply and demand.

Oak Hill is a long way from Detroit. But the two Oak Hill men may have just put one of capitalism's fundamental tenets into play. That tenet is competition.

As we know now, the Oak Hill duo disappeared into obscurity, gasoline is well past $1 a gallon and marching upward again after some recent production adjustments by OPEC. There is still no solution in sight for the energy crisis.

State cabinet sets aside week in appreciation of fire fighters

The Florida Cabinet has designated May 23-30, as 'Fire Fighter Appreciation Week.' State Fire Marshal Bill Gunter, who also serves as Florida's State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner, said, "I am pleased that Gov. Graham and the Cabinet recognize the efforts put forth by the firefighters of our state and that the Muscular Dystrophy Association has joined in supporting this very worthwhile event. All too often we take for granted the importance of the service firefighters perform in our communities."

Gunter also said, "Perhaps the best way that the citizens of our community could demonstrate their appreciation toward our firefighters would be to truly understand who they are and what they do. The week of May 23-30, is a week that the citizens of this great state can show appreciation to the courageous firefighters of Florida. They are always available for responding to emergencies. Their efforts more than warrant recognition during 'Fire Fighter Appreciation Week!'

Rabies reaches 10 year peak

Rabies cases in Florida reached a 10-year high in 1981, and cats are running far ahead of dogs as the domestic pet most likely to get the disease.

Dr. Oscar Sussman, associate epidemiologist for the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitation Services, and adjunct professor at the University of Florida, says there were 116 confirmed rabies cases in animals last year. Most of the diseased animals were raccoons, bats and skunks, but seven cases were found in cats. Only one dog was found to have rabies.

The rabies figures are the highest in the last decade, and experts are worried that unvaccinated cats may pickup the disease from a wild animal and endanger their owners, as they did during a recent outbreak in Iowa. In the Iowa case, 83 cats were found to have rabies, and they were the most common source of rabies exposure in human beings.

Nationwide, documented reports of rabies in animals have doubled over the last three years. In 1981, for the first time, there were more documented rabies cases in cats than in dogs.

"Some people just don't believe cats can get rabies," says Dr. Gen Cope, extension veterinarian at UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS), "but any warm-blooded animal can catch it."

Cope says that cats and dogs in rural areas often pick up the disease in an encounter with a wild animal, and then pass it on to other domestic pets. People routinely vaccinate their dogs, but don't vaccinate their cats, so the incidence in cats grows.

"Rabies in the wild burns itself out," adds Sussman. "It decimates the wild animal population and moves on. But in the meantime domestic animals continue to spread the disease among themselves. It's been found in 55 of the 67 counties in Florida within the past five years."

Last year two cases of rabies were found in cats in Marion County. One rabid cat was also found in each of two nearby counties, Flagler and Orange. A rabid cat was also found in Suwannee County and in Jackson County near the Georgia border. In Bay County, which adjoins Jackson, epidemic

Snake danger low in woods

Summer is the time for outdoors in Florida, and those strollers unfamiliar with Southern forests and woods may think such natural settings are full of dangerous snakes waiting to pounce on the unwary.

But in fact, many outdoor areas such as professional forests, as well as with the State Division of Forestry, Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, traverse woods almost daily for months or years without even seeing a dangerous snake.

The danger from snakes usually is greatly over-emphasized. Yet, such bites undeniably happen, and you should know what to do if you ever need to cope with one.

The American Red Cross supplies an excellent first aid leaflet on snake bites, which should be obtained and studied by those heading in Florida woods for summer outings.

Glades Central hosts state spelling tournament

BELLE GLADE-Glades Central High School sponsored its first annual State Invitational Spelling Tournament on Wednesday, May 12.

The best speller in the state is Carl Micarelli, from Orange County. He received a $1,000 scholarship donated by South Bay Growers, Teets and Haynes, Basore, Inc., Billy Rogers Farms, Dixie Farms, Seminole Supply, Sugar Cane Cooperative, Quaker Oats, Miller Mortuary, Royal's, Inc., Blakeshaw Powers, Gilbert's Jewelers, Everglades Federal, Winn Dixie Stores, and Wilkerson-Cooper Produce.

Michelle Coady from Forest Hill High School won a second place $100 savings bond donated by Glades Central High School faculty. Third place went to Jane Hurchella of Martin County and fourth place to Darlene Griffith of Okaloosa County.

Besides certificates, trophies, and cash awards, all the participants from the 13 counties received packets of muck and sugar cane supplied by Joe Clayton.

Local pronouncers for the contest were Martha Allison and Jeannette Fincannon.

Local judges were Mirian Alvarez, Debbie Altman, Mildred Challancin, Earlyne Harrell, Barbara Kight, Marilyn Lennon, Shari Lohmann, Barbara Hyneman, Doris Lane, Aggie Resmondo, Mercedes Robinson, Alice Zacherl, Esther Walker, and Elinor Wolf.

The pronouncer for the final round was Anna Meehan, Language Arts coordinator of Palm Beach County. Judges for the finals were Senator Don Myers, County Commissioner Bill Bailey, Roy Charles Faust and Marc Orenberg.

Jim Mallard of Channel 5 television station presented the trophies and awards.

When the contest had been narrowed to nine contestants, a secret list was given to the contestants. It was then that the real spelling began, according to Mrs. Sonja Lutz.

"Furfural" and "safflower" knocked several contestants down and soon Carl Micarelli became the best speller in the State High Schools correctly spelling "yeti."

According to Dr. Effie Grear, principal, next year's contest has been planned for late April. Sarah Bennett and Sonja Lutz were originators and coordinators of the event.

The Orange Blossom Cosmetology Association for the State of Florida is presently convening at Hyatt of the Palm Beaches. More than 2,000 cosmetologists and their friends gathered around the Hyatt poolside Monday for the annual parade of units. The West Palm Beach Unit won a prize for their Roaring 20's costumes. Also participating in the contest were Unit 25 of Belle Glade. The unit is comprised of cosmetologists from Belle Glade, Pahokee and Clewiston. Mrs. Elnora Benjamin is the unit president.

Raiders to march in new uniforms

BELLE GLADE-The Marching Maroon Machine from Glades Central Community School will have a new look when school starts in the fall.

The Raiders will step high in new band uniforms. The last time the Raiders wore new uniforms was in 1972.

Dr. Effie Grear, principal of Glades Central, was presented Thursday with several checks totalling $25,000 from Frank Teets, vice-president and general manager of South Bay Growers.

Dr. Grear said Teets spearheaded a fund raising effort to help Glades Central purchase uniforms.

Funds were donated by businesses and farms in Belle Glade, South Bay, Pahokee and Clewiston, according to Teets.

He also said every business contacted made a donation.

Among those businesses making a donation were Kite

chman Oil, Consolidated Chemicals,

Royals, South Bay

Growers, Basore

Florida, W.E.

Schlechte and Sons,

U.S. Sugar Cane Corp.,

Roth Farms, Mace Sod

Service and Sugar

Cane Cooperative of Florida.

Willie Pyfrom, director of the band said the donations will help the band over the top in its efforts to raise enough money to purchase new uniforms.

For the past several years, members of the band and the Band Parent Association have spearheaded numerous fund raising activities to raise funds for new uniforms.

Pyfrom said for the past two years, band members have purchased their own shirt, slacks, and shoes, while the school has been buying hats and cummerbunds.

The new uniform will be gold and maroon. The Raiders are one of the county's most popular high school bands and receive numerous invitations throughout the school year to perform at various events throughout the state.

Teets also said the donors asked that any money left over be used to redecorate the band room.

Each year the Raiders participate in the Black Gold Jubilee, the Afro Arts Festival, the Palm Beach Christmas Parade, performs at the Wellington Polo Championship and numerous marching and concert contests.

Tells told Dr. Grear and Pyfrom the willingness of the donors demonstrates "the feeling in the industry." The band in the Glades area holds for the band and your faculty. "We all appreciate the job you do and realize that often citizens in Western Palm Beach County are treated differently from the east coast."

Mrs. Effie McNair, the center director, said the trip was a dream of the senior citizens attending the center for approximately two years.

She said the center had no means of financing such a trip until several organizations sought financial assistance from the Pahokee High School Class of 1974.

The class treasurer Evalina Bass presented the center with a check for $50.

The center advisory council also donated $15 towards the trip expense.

"After much work, the trip was on its way and the seniors were happier than ever. May 7th will be a day long remembered by the seniors," said Mrs. McNair.

Mrs. Rhonda Brown, assistant coordinator for All Dade Home Health Aides, also are 60 years of age and older are eligible to attend the center and invite seniors in the community to visit the center.

She said senior citizens who do not have transportation to the center may call 996-1771 to have transportation arranged.

Mrs. McNair said the senior citizens, and the center staff wish to thank Mr. McDonald, the Pahokee High School class of 1974 and the Advisory Council for their support.

Miss Teresa Johnson

DR. DAVID T. EVANS

"After He said this, He (Jesus) was taken up before their very eyes, and a cloud hid Him from their sight." Acts 1:9 NIV.

On top of the Mt. of Olives there is a small chapel of the Ascension. Inside there is a stone with a large foot print in it. The footprint was carved in the stone, and it is one of several such stones around Jerusalem marking a Sabbath Day's Journey from Jerusalem. Since the Bible (Acts 1:12) tells us the Ascension took place on "The Mt. of Olives a Sabbath day's walk from the city," then that would mark the very spot of Jesus' departure into heaven.

The greatest event took place forty days after the resurrection. During that time Jesus was seen by the disciples several times. His resurrection was a reality. He left them with a task and two promises. The task He gave to them of course is our own task, it is the mission of the church. The work the apostles were called to, was to become "fishers of men" or as Jesus said another time during the time of between resurrection and ascension, "Therefore go make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit and teach them to obey everything I have commanded you." On this day He told them, "You will be my witnesses in Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." This of course will still the work of the church. This is our first job, everything else is secondary. If as the Church of Jesus Christ we took this job seriously we could get it done. I do not mean all people would be Christians, because some people no matter how well and lovingly the gospel is presented to them they will reject it. But, I do believe all people could have the opportunity to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ if His church made this our first order of business.

The first promise Jesus gave to them and to us is the power of the Holy Spirit to do this job. These men were already believers. They were Christians, but they were Christians without power. Well there are still a lot of Christians like that. They have accepted the gift of salvation through Jesus Christ but they have not received the power that God wants each of us to have. Before Jesus was crucified He taught the disciples that the Holy Spirit would be their Leader, their Enabler, and Teacher after He was gone. Then just before the ascension He said to them "Do not leave Jerusalem, but wait for the gift My Father promised, which you have heard Me speak about. For John baptized with water, but in a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit." Then He went on to say, "But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you." We still need the same Presence and power if we are to be what Jesus has called us to do.

The second promise is that Jesus is coming again! After Jesus ascended into Heaven, while the disciples were looking into the clouds where Jesus had disappeared, they received a message from two angels who came and stood beside them, "Men of Galilee," they said, "Why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen Him go into heaven." Acts 1:11 NIV.

That is the promise to God's people. One day (I believe soon) Jesus is coming back to put all things in order. In the meantime we and I have a big job to do, and if we will let Him, God will give us the power to do it through the Holy Spirit.

Final wedding plans announced

BELLE GLADE — Mrs. George Crews Jr., of Belle Glade and Billy Turville of Canal Point announce final wedding plans for the marriage of their daughter, Andrea Noelle Turville, to Barry Scott Weekley.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weekley also of Belle Glade.

The bride-elect attended Christian Day School. She is currently employed at Barbara's Dress Shop, Belle Glade.

The groom-elect is a

The French Way To Start A Party

Bouchées au Fromage are a "hot" French cheese dish that will outshine the ordinary chips and dips prepared to a dinner party. Because so many people are interested in foreign cheeses, especially the French ones, a hostess can rely on them with the assurance that there are many varieties such as St. Paulin, Doux de Montagne, chèvres (goat's milk cheeses) such as Banon, Pyramide, Bûcheron, available in many supermarkets as well as specialty shops.

To make this new hot dish, you will need a blend of soft and hard cheeses with minced scallops and softened butter. Use this mixture as filling for pastry shells and bake just long enough for the cheese to melt and the crust to take on a golden brown color.

BOUCHEES AU FROMAGE
(Makes 40 canapés)

2 packages (11 oz. ea.) pie crust mix 1/4 cup soft butter 8 oz. semisoft cheese (i.e. St. Paulin, Doux de Montagne) 1/2 cup 2 T. minced onions 1/2 cup soft cheese (i.e. Bûcheron) 1 egg, well beaten Prepare pie-crust as directed on package. Roll out 1/2 the dough to an oblong 12 x 20. Cut dough into four 2 1/2 x 1/2 inch squares. Combine remaining ingredients. Shape mixture into 40 small balls. Place one ball in each of 20 squares. Place edges of the squares and fold over the remaining 20 squares over cheese and press edges with tines of a fork to seal them. Brush pastry tops with beaten egg. Place on greased cookie sheets. Repeat using remaining pie crust and cheese balls to make 20 more canapés. Bake in preheated hot oven (400°F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm. (These canapés freeze well after being baked.)

Country Club opens with flair

The doors of the Belle Glade Country Club opened with flair under new management this weekend.

In a special preview Friday, an estimated 150 persons turned out for a preview of how the club will operate under the Elden Corp.

Friday, each of the ladies received a fresh cut flower as they entered and all visitors signed a guest book.

Carmen "D", a talented pianist, played many standards as the crowd enjoyed friendly conversation, complimentary drinks, and tasty hors d'oeuvres in the quiet atmosphere of the refurbished club.

Dave Haneberg, chief executive, said Monday that the club have received many compliments in the few days that it has been open under the Elden banner.

The club is being managed by Harold Weil, a retired lawyer, Dave Haneberg, and Alan Royse.

The managers are making a big effort to cater with style to the needs of Glades area residents.

One of the goals of the club is to offer live music on Friday and Saturday nights.

The country club will be a family-oriented restaurant, serving fine steaks, chops, and seafood, along with specials every day.

Deborah Abramson, mixologist, will be preparing cocktails in the lounge.

Country Club opens with flair

The doors of the Belle Glade Country Club opened with flair under new management this weekend.

In a special preview Friday, an estimated 150 persons turned out for a preview of how the club will operate under the Elden Corp.

Friday, each of the ladies received a fresh cut flower as they entered and all visitors signed a guest book.

Carmen "D," a talented pianist, played many standards as the crowd enjoyed friendly conversation, complimentary drinks, and tasty hors d'oeuvres in the quiet atmosphere of the refurbished club.

Dave Haneberg, chief executive, said Monday that the club has received many compliments in the few days that it has been open under the Elden banner.

The club is being managed by Harold Weil, a retired lawyer, Dave Haneberg, and Alan Royse.

The managers are making a big effort cater with style to the needs of Glades area residents.

One of the goals of the club is to offer live music on Friday and Saturday nights.

The country club will be a family-oriented restaurant, serving fine steaks, chops, and seafood, along with specials every day.

Deborah Abramson, mixologist, will be preparing cocktails in the lounge.

NANCY BLACK, assistant manager of First American Bank in Pahokee (right) and Mike Riley of Florida National Bank were two of the folks on hand for the preview of the Belle Glade Country Club.

CARMEN "D," pianist and entertainer, played many popular standards Friday during the preview of the Belle Glade Country Club.

McDonalds
to open this week

BELLE GLADE — McDonalds opens its doors today after four months of construction.

The local franchise is owned by Neil Ashton, a veteran with the McDonald chain, having started out 20 years ago as a crew person.

"I worked my way up through the ranks," said Ashton. "I grew up in Maryland. I was wanting to relocate to a nice small town. The Belle Glade Clewiston area suits me fine."

Ashton said the people here have been very friendly. He said the corporation has been looking into this area for the past four or five years.

"This area is a small,

NEIL ASHTON is the manager of the Belle Glade McDonald's restaurant which is scheduled to open Thursday, May 20.

compact trading area ideal for the McDonald business concept for the local hometown restaurant image," Ashton said.

The local fast food chain will be employing between 40 and 45 employees, according to Ashton, and all will be from this area. "I believe we have found some exceptionally good help from this area," he said.

Ashton is married with two children. He has lived in the Clewiston area for the past year.

PBJC enjoys record

enrollment, up 30.8 percent

Enrollment at Palm Beach Junior College increased by 30.8 percent over a year ago in the Spring Term, according to Dr. Melvin Haynes, Vice President for Student Affairs.

The increase, one of the largest percentage increases in the history of the college, is partly due to the fact that PBJC South did not have a Spring Term last year, and enrolled 745 students this year.

Over all four campuses, PBJC enrollment went to 5,572 from last year's 4,225. Even discounting PBJC South's 754 students, a sizeable increase of 593 students, about 14 percent, has been registered.

PBJC South, on the Florida Atlantic University campus, dovetails its programs so closely with FAU that in prior years they have registered some students on the quarter system, and did not have a Spring Term.

This year both PBJC and PBLJC South are on schedules closely matching PBJC and all other public community colleges and universities in the state.

PBJC North, at PGA

Blvd., went over the 1,000 mark for the first time in Spring Term with an enrollment of 1,027, up 231 students over a year ago.

The most spectacular percentage increase was scored by PBJC Glades, with 374 students compared to 265 a year ago, a 46 percent increase.

Gains were made in all categories, with increases in day and evening students, credit and non-credit courses, and in most departments.

It is never possible to pinpoint exact reasons for enrollment increases, but it is usual for community college enrollment to increase during periods when jobs are hard to find.

"We hope the increase also means that we are doing a few things right," Dr. Haynes said.
